MSE Graduate Program Rises in Rankings

March 2015

The graduate program in Materials Science and Engineering was one of several Iowa State programs to receive accolades recently.

U.S. News and World Report magazine released its 2016 national graduate school rankings on March 10. The graduate MSE program came in 24th overall and 15th among public schools. This is an increase from last year's rankings of 29th overall and 17th among public schools.
